International Emergency Department
Leadership Institute

AMSTERDAM, NETHERLANDS

04-10 November 2024

Take your Emergency Department leadership skills to the next level at IEDLI!

The International Emergency Department Leadership Institute (IEDLI) provides Emergency Department (ED) physicians, nurses, and healthcare administrators from around the world with the skills and knowledge they need to lead their EDs to success!

This one-week educational program is sponsored by the Department of Emergency Medicine at Brigham and Women's Hospital, a Harvard Medical School teaching hospital. Faculty members with extensive experience developing and leading EDs join from within the Harvard system and other elite institutes around the world.

Why Attend IEDLI?

At IEDLI, you will explore real-world scenarios and challenges in running an Emergency Department.
